RE: Bath & North East Somerset Council Response to Written Statement by Mr. William Gaskell (Rep/120/001) 31.01.1

Whether, if Section 20(5)c is subsequently found to apply to the submitted plan, the duty to co-operate would in practice, have been met in its preparation.

"I don't feel that the duty to co-operate has been met yet, as a 25-year resident of Bath I have said that I want there locally to be a middle-class family development of spacious houses in the Bath style with high ceilings and with gardens all the way around them and a driveway with garaging for at least two cars and a servants apartment, drawing room, living room, dinning room, library, games room, storage room, utilities room, kitchen, bedrooms and bathrooms and this can be balanced with "low-rise" apartment buildings with the same communal facilities to meet the council's numerical ambitions to accommodate new people, this is really the "Core Strategy" for Bath which needs to be explicitly stated in the council's official documentation in response my representations."
