

A watercolor-style illustration of a row of terraced houses with orange-brown walls and purple roofs. In front of the houses, a clothesline is strung between two wooden posts, with several white rectangular items hanging from it. The scene is set on a green lawn under a bright yellow sun with rays. The text 'hang it out to dry!' is written in a large, red, serif font across the middle of the image.

hang it out to dry!

© www.mcfoss.org.uk 2012

top tips for a greener future

5 cost effective ways

- Use clothes airers or washing lines instead of tumble driers
- Fit thermostatic valves to radiators and bleed regularly
- Shut up! Keep heat inside - close doors, shutters, curtains and blinds
- Draught proof doors, letterboxes, floors and install chimney balloons
- Boost your insulation

Bath & North East Somerset Council

BATH PRESERVATION TRUST

 Transition Bath

Bath Homes fit for the future

www.bathnes.gov.uk/greenbuild